PRESS RELEASE

Anaïs Ravet is appointed Director of Studies of the Master in Management at ESCP Europe

ESCP Europe is pleased to announce the nomination of Anaïs Ravet as the new Director of Studies of the Master in Management at the federal level. She replaces Thomas Allanic, who held this position since May 2013.

After graduating from Sciences Po, Anaïs Ravet started her career in China, actively participating in the rapid development of the Alliances françaises in China from 2006 to 2009, as the deputy to the General Delegate. She joined the Paris Ile-de-France Chamber of Commerce and Industry in 2009, in charge of the Advanced Management Program in Fashion and Luxury, in cooperation with HEC Paris, the Institut Français de la Mode (IFM) and Tsinghua University. She then extended her portfolio to lead the cooperation programmes involving CCI Paris Ile-de-France's schools and international partners in China, Russia, South Africa and Ivory Coast. In 2014 she followed the General Management Programme of ESCP Europe (Executive MBA core courses).
In 2016 she was appointed as Deputy Director of the International department for the education division and led the development of the French language tests and diplomas reaching up to 60,000 professionals and students in 2018.
As the new Director of Studies Europe of the Master in Management, she will work in pairs with Cécile Kharoubi, Associate Dean, in charge of the programme's content and development since July 2017.

"I am proud to have been appointed at the head of the ESCP Europe flagship, in partnership with Cécile Kharoubi. It is a unique programme, ranked number five by the Financial Times, with a pan-European model and fully customizable through double degrees, exchange agreements, specializations, electives. I am committed to maintaining the level of excellence of the programme and to offering our students an ever-richer range of courses, international exposure and interaction with the companies to help them build their own professional projects" says Anaïs Ravet.

"We are very pleased to have Anaïs on board. In the global journey, thanks to her international expertise, she will be able to attract even more international students from all continents. Our MiM programme currently offers 6 Masters' degree, one on each of our European campuses and diverse dual degrees with the most prestigious universities in the world. Our Alliance in Art, Business, Culture, Diplomacy and Engineering (ABCDE) is to strengthen this multiple competences' offer, in order to prepare strategic and expert tomorrow's leaders to design a better Society" adds Léon Laulusa, Executive Vice-President of ESCP Europe and Dean for Academic Affairs - International Relations.
